Re: Proposed Ballot Measure to Amend Just Cause

Colleagues:

Last week Councilmembers Noel Gallo and Dan Kalb introduced a proposed amendment to Measure EE that would remove the homeowner exemption for all owners, regardless of tenure. I recognize that the spirit of their proposal is to stop speculation and to ensure a fair housing market that provides opportunity for both owner-occupants and their tenants. The measure, as presented, however, gives me concern. Rather than simply offering low-income vulnerable tenants protection, this measure will likely create market conditions that incentivize many long-term owners to take units off the market or sell their properties to large-holding investors. This will result in loss of security for existing tenants, economic diversity and further declines in the ownership presence for African American, women and other under-represented groups, repeating the undesirable results of a loss of the Black middle class from Berkeley, San Francisco and other urban cities throughout the State.

The testimonies we've received are compelling and reveal just how difficult it is to set fair play rules given the current conditions of the market. I urge us to carefully craft our response so that we do not replicate the patterns we have found in neighboring cities who first experienced these "hot market" conditions. Consider the following:

- Since the market crash in 2008, it is extremely difficult for first-time and conventional homebuyers to compete in a real estate market dominated by cash-offer investors
- This is a "Seller's Market" meaning that there is tremendous pressure on long-term homeowners to sell now and make up for under-market conditions of the past 10-12 years
- Increased costs/risks put further upward pressure on rents especially in unregulated units
- In Oakland and other neighboring communities, we have witnessed hundreds of Ellis Act conversions of Victorian and other historic buildings into commercial uses (e.g, dental offices, law offices, retail etc.)
- Many homeowners who purchased multi-family buildings need to do so to qualify for their purchase loans and are relying on their buildings as their principle retirement investment and for stability for their own families so that they can remain productive members of our community

The Need

The Bay Area's slow housing production has contributed to Oakland becoming one of the highest cost markets for rental housing in the nation. This lack of housing production coupled with wage stagnation and growing income inequality has created conditions that provide perverse incentives in our housing markets. Rising rents have sent shockwaves through our city which has long been home to working class and poor families that found relative affordability here compared to neighboring more affluent cities. And, recent reports have revealed unscrupulous real estate professionals encouraging investors to subvert the intent of Oakland's rental protections laws by fraudulently claiming homeowner exemptions provided by the Just Cause for Eviction law (Measure EE).

After the passage of the Housing Rights Act in 1968, Oakland became one of a few major cities in the country to extend robust homeownership opportunities to African American and women. Many of these families could become owners though the income generated in exchange for providing stable housing in their multifamily properties. Many of these families today are low and moderate income owners who frequently rent units below-market rate and who are more likely to rent to tenants who have average credit scores and limited cash reserves. These families have contributed to the diversity of our city and stability of our communities. As we seek to add protections to tenants, we must craft a solution that does not unintentionally remove housing units from availability or penalize our residents who have played by the rules.

Given these market conditions, it is reasonable to conclude that any sells during this cycle will likely be to institutional investors who can spread the increased risk over multiple units and who can readily make purchase offers well above the asking price, further discouraging future owner-occupants and incentivizing small owners to sell —further accelerating displacement of tenants through new owner move-in's or Ellis Act evictions.

The Solution

To preserve our community diversity and encourage homeowners to keep units on the market for rent, I propose for your consideration amendments to Measure EE that will serve to discourage speculation even as we strengthen both the tenant and homeowner protections contemplated in the passage of Measure EE. All other provisions of Measure EE notwithstanding these amendments specifically:

1. Require that any owner seeking the homeowner exemption provide proof that the unit has been their primary residence for at least seven (7) years of the last ten (10) years;
2. Require that a new owner-occupant reside in the unit for a minimum of seven (7) years and file petitions with the rent board before the exemption will apply;
3. Shifts the burden of proof for owner-occupancy to the homeowner;
4. Aligns the definition of single family residence with conventional lending practices to include four-unit buildings;
5. Retains Just Cause protections for Tenants currently residing in owner-occupied four-unit buildings at the time of adoption. For any tenancies beginning in an exempt unit after adoption of the measure, the owner-occupancy exemption will apply.
6. Allow the City Council by 2/3 vote to add defenses to eviction by ordinance without returning to voters.

Four-unit buildings qualify for residential loan guarantees from the federal government and are considered 'mom-and-pop' housing providers under Los Angeles and Emeryville rent control laws. The City of Oakland, the Federal Government, and other rent controlled jurisdiction all acknowledge this distinction. The City of Oakland offers owner-occupied 1-4 unit properties several grant and loan programs including: seismic retrofitting grants, the access improvement program grant program, the lead-safe housing and paint program, the home maintenance and improvement program, the emergency home repair program, the neighborhood housing revitalization program, and weatherization and energy retrofit loan program.

Housing markets are cyclical. The high cost BOON market we are currently experiencing will eventually give way to California's next BUST. Let us be mindful that the option we place before the voters in November acknowledges our collective commitment to preserving homeownership options for low and moderate income families, as well as attracting and sustaining ethnic and economic diversity in our housing market.

OAKLAND CITY COUNCIL

RESOLUTION NO. _____ C.M.S.

REVISIONS BY COUNCILMEMBER LYNETTE GIBSON MCELHANEY

[Highlighted Text Shows Changes By Councilmember Gibson McElhaney to the Version Presented by Councilmembers Gallo and Kalb]

INTRODUCED BY

A RESOLUTION ON THE CITY COUNCIL'S OWN MOTION SUBMITTING TO THE VOTERS AT THE NOVEMBER 6, 2018 GENERAL MUNICIPAL ELECTION PROPOSED AMENDMENTS TO OAKLAND MUNICIPAL CODE SECTION 8.22.300 ET SEQ. (JUST CAUSE FOR EVICTION ORDINANCE) TO: (1) REMOVE THE EXEMPTION FOR OWNER OCCUPIED DUPLEXES AND TRIPLEXES; MODIFY THE EXEMPTION FOR OWNER OCCUPIED TWO- AND THREE-UNIT PROPERTIES TO INCLUDE FOUR-UNIT PROPERTIES FOR FUTURE TENANCIES AND REQUIRE SEVEN YEARS OF OWNER OCCUPANCY BEFORE QUALIFYING FOR EXEMPTION; (2) ALLOW THE CITY COUNCIL, WITHOUT RETURNING TO THE VOTERS, TO ADD LIMITATIONS ON A LANDLORD'S RIGHT TO EVICT; AND DIRECTING THE CITY CLERK TO FIX THE DATE FOR SUBMISSION OF ARGUMENTS AND PROVIDE FOR NOTICE AND PUBLICATION IN ACCORDANCE WITH CITY OF OAKLAND'S GENERAL MUNICIPAL ELECTION ON NOVEMBER 6, 2018

WHEREAS, On November 5, 2002, Oakland voters passed the Just Cause for Eviction Ordinance (Measure EE), which is in Chapter 8.22, Article II of the Oakland Municipal Code; and

WHEREAS, the City of Oakland is experiencing a severe housing affordability and displacement crisis that requires action by the City government; and

WHEREAS, there is a significant demand for rental housing in Oakland leading to rising market rents, caused in part by the spillover of increasingly expensive housing costs in San Francisco, and the increased housing pressures for residents across a range of lower and middle income levels warrants expanded rent stabilization and tenant protection policies; and

WHEREAS, the housing affordability crisis threatens the public health, safety and/or welfare of our citizenry; and

WHEREAS, over 60 percent of occupied housing units in Oakland are occupied by renters, many of whom will not be able to locate affordable housing in Oakland if they are displaced (U.S. Census Bureau, ACS 2016); and

WHEREAS, in June 2018, the median rental asking price for to rent a one-bedroom unit in Oakland was $2,100 per month and the median rental asking price for to rent a two-bedroom unit was $2,480 per month (Zumper National Rent Report: July 2018); and

WHEREAS, Oakland's rental housing costs were recently noted as the seventh highest in the nation (Zumper National Rent Report: July 2018); and

WHEREAS, in 2016, $46,318 was the estimated annual median household income for households that rented in Oakland, (U.S. Census Bureau, Census Reporter Table B25119); and

WHEREAS, since affordable rent for a family is generally understood as no more than thirty percent of income, affordable rent for a family earning $46,318 is approximately $1,158 per month; and

WHEREAS, as of the end of the 2015, 22.5% of Oakland's households were "housing insecure," defined as facing high housing costs, poor housing quality, unstable neighborhoods, overcrowding, or homelessness (March 2016 Oakland at Home report, p. 17); and

WHEREAS, Oakland's minimum wage is $13.23 per hour and a full-time hourly worker must earn an hourly wage of $35.67 to afford a one bedroom apartment in Oakland (Out of Reach 2018, National Low income Housing Coalition); and

WHEREAS, over 26,000 Oakland households are severely rent burdened, which is defined as spending 50 percent or more of monthly household income on rent (Oakland Consolidated Housing Needs Assessment 2015 Analysis of HUD Data, as reported in the City's March 2016 Oakland at Home report, pp. 10-11); and

WHEREAS, displacement through evictions has a direct impact on the health, safety and/or welfare of Oakland's citizens by uprooting children from their schools, disrupting longstanding community networks that are integral to citizens' welfare, forcing lower income residents to pay unaffordable relocation costs, segregating low-income residents into less healthy, less safe and more overcrowded housing that is often further removed from vital public services and leaving residents with unhealthy levels of stress and anxiety as they attempt to cope with the threat of homelessness; and

WHEREAS, the City of Oakland is interested in putting forth policies that help to maintain the ability of people in all income categories to live in our city; and

WHEREAS, The City Council finds that reasonable regulation of aspects of the landlord-tenant relationship is necessary to foster constructive communication, maintain an adequate supply of a variety of rental housing options, and protect health, safety, and the general welfare of the public; and

WHEREAS, "Oakland At Home: Recommendations for implementing A Roadmap Towards Equity," a report from the Oakland Housing Cabinet convened by Oakland Mayor Libby Schaaf published in 2016, included among its recommendations for strengthening renters' protections the extension of Just Cause to cover all renters in all building types including owner-occupied duplexes and triplexes; and

WHEREAS, numerous press stories have highlighted concerns about the potential for eviction when owners move into duplexes and triplexes, including a May 9, 2017 East Bay Express article (Neighbors Along One Fruitvale Street Are Organizing to Stop a Controversial Eviction) concerning a landlord who purchased a triplex and published comments about his intent to evict the tenants, a June 21, 2017 East Bay Express article (Living Downstairs, or Lying?: Advocates Say Oakland Landlords Pretending to Reside in Apartments so as to Evict Tenants) about potential abuses of the duplex and triplex exemptions, a February 16, 2018 local NBC story (Lack of Oversight May be Allowing Some Oakland Landlords to Wrongfully Evict Families, Elderly) about a spike in "owner move-in" evictions which noted the lack of City data on the number of such evictions, particularly before the passage of the eviction tracking requirements in Measure JJ in 2016, and a June 25, 2018 local CBS story (Caught On Video: Oakland Realtors Coach Buyers On How To Profit From Tenant Eviction) about realtors coaching potential buyers on how to evict tenants from duplexes and triplexes in Oakland that indicate a spike in "owner move-in" evictions and noting evidence of how some real estate professionals coach buyers on how to subvert the intent of the owner-occupancy provisions of Measure EE; and

WHEREAS, tenants in owner-occupied duplexes and triplexes do not receive the same Just Cause eviction protection in Oakland as tenants in buildings of four or more units, and in duplexes and triplexes that are not owner-occupied; and

WHEREAS, investors and speculators who purchase duplexes and triplexes with the intention of using the owner-occupancy exemption to move in, immediately evict all the tenants in a building, and then quickly resell the building after making cosmetic improvements do tremendous damage to the welfare of tenants, disrupt the fabric of Oakland's communities, and financially benefit from the transaction without making any real investment into the housing stock or community; and

WHEREAS, long-term owners of two to four unit buildings who live in the building are by definition small 'mom and pop' housing providers since they received residential loans, live in their building, and often have invested all of their wealth into property and in recognition of this special relationship the City Council does not wish to burden any housing provider for whom the building is their long-term home with Just Cause regulations; and

WHEREAS, the City Council believes that owners of two to four unit buildings who have lived in their unit for seven or more years are long-term residents and not speculators who should be subject to Just Cause for Eviction protections; and

WHEREAS, when Measure EE was passed voters acknowledged that the relationship between homeowners and tenants residing together on property in owner-occupied duplexes and triplexes do not have the same relationship as tenants who live in commercial buildings that are not owner-occupied; and

WHEREAS, housing production has not kept pace with housing demand, the market has created perverse incentives for some investors and speculators to subvert the intent of Measure EE to purchase duplexes and triplexes for commercial use with the intention of fraudulently using the owner-occupancy exemption to evict tenants to increase rents or quickly resell the building after increasing the rents to current market value;

WHEREAS this violation of the spirit of Measure EE unfairly targets vulnerable tenants, causing significant (often irreparable harm) to Oakland residents and disrupts the social and economic diversity of Oakland's communities; and

WHEREAS, two, three and four unit buildings are classified as single-family residences (SFR) and those who live in the building are defined as homeowners, qualifying for residential loans and property exemptions, many of whom are low and moderate income first-time homebuyers and/or are part of the struggling middle class who rely upon rental income and who also help relieve the housing burden by making units available for rent; and

Formatted: Indent: First line: 0"

WHEREAS the City Council recognizes the importance of increasing the housing supply, providing a fair housing market that recognizes the unique relationship of living in cooperative community with tenants in single family residences and that homeowners of two, three and four unit buildings who have lived in their properties for seven or more years are residents and not speculators seeking to subvert the Just Cause for Eviction protections; and

WHEREAS, any law that increases financial risk and exposure for homeowners will adversely impact the housing supply; and

WHEREAS, tenants in duplexes and triplexes would be at significantly reduced risk of displacement—whether from illegal schemes, a desire to sell a vacant building for a higher price, or lawful high rent increases—if duplexes and triplexes were subject to just cause protections; and

WHEREAS, many other cities with rent and eviction protections do not exempt owner-occupied duplexes and triplexes; and

WHEREAS, this action is exempt from the requirements of the California Environmental Quality Act (CEQA) pursuant to CEQA Guidelines sections 15060(c)(2) (no direct or reasonably foreseeable indirect physical change in the environment), 15061(b)(3) (no significant effect on the environment), and 15183 (projects consistent with a community plan, general plan, or zoning), each as a separate and independent basis, and when viewed collectively provide an overall basis for CEQA clearance; and

WHEREAS, unlike the Just Cause for Eviction Ordinance, Oakland's Rent Adjustment Ordinance was passed by the City Council, allowing the Council flexibility to respond to new issues and abuses impacting rent stabilization, and, therefore, including a limited ability for the City Council to amend the Just Cause for Eviction Ordinance, specifically to add additional limitations on evictions, would enable the City Council to better maintain existing protections for tenants, and allow the City to more swiftly deal with changing conditions affecting eviction impacts on Oakland's rental housing without having to return to the ballot; and

WHEREAS, in Alameda Superior Court No. RG03081362 (Kim v. City of Oakland) the Court ruled invalid portions of Measure EE ([O.M.C., Chapter 8, Article II (8.22.300, et seq.)])) which ruling was accepted in the settlement of California Court of Appeal (1st District) No. A114855 (Rental Housing Association of Northern Alameda County v. City of Oakland) effective November 13, 2007, and the invalidated language was not removed from Measure EE; and

WHEREAS, California Election Code Section 9217 provides that an ordinance adopted by voters may be amended only by a vote of the people, unless provision for amendment is otherwise made in the original ordinance, and such a provision for amendment by the City Council was not authorized by the voters in the Just Cause for Eviction Ordinance; now, therefore, be it

RESOLVED: That the City Council hereby authorizes and directs the City Clerk, at least 88 days prior to the next general municipal election date, to file with the Alameda County Board of Supervisors and the Registrar of Voters certified copies of this resolution; and be it

Section 6 [8.22.360] - Good Cause Required for Eviction.

- A. No landlord shall endeavor to recover possession, issue a notice terminating tenancy, or recover possession of a rental unit in the city of Oakland unless the landlord is able to prove the existence of one of the following grounds:
1. The tenant has failed to pay rent to which the landlord is legally entitled pursuant to the lease or rental agreement and under provisions of state or local law, and said failure has continued after service on the tenant of a written notice correctly stating the amount of rent then due and requiring its payment within a period, stated in the notice, of not less than three days. However, this subsection shall not constitute grounds for eviction where tenant has withheld rent pursuant to applicable law.
 2. The tenant has continued, after written notice to cease, to substantially violate a material term of the tenancy other than the obligation to surrender possession on proper notice as required by law, provided further that notwithstanding any lease provision to the contrary, a landlord shall not endeavor to recover possession of a rental unit as a result of subletting of the rental unit by the tenant if the landlord has unreasonably withheld the right to sublet following a written request by the tenant, so long as the tenant continues to reside in the rental unit and the sublet constitutes a one-for-one replacement of the departing tenant(s). If the landlord fails to respond to the tenant in writing within fourteen (14) days of receipt of the tenant's written request, the tenant's request shall be deemed approved by the landlord.
 3. The tenant, who had an oral or written agreement with the landlord which has terminated, has refused after written request or demand by the landlord to execute a written extension or renewal thereof for a further term of like duration and under such terms which are materially the same as in the previous agreement, provided, that such terms do not conflict with any of the provisions of this chapter. [O.M.C. Chapter 8.22, Article II].
 4. The tenant has willfully caused substantial damage to the premises beyond normal wear and tear and, after written notice, has refused to cease damaging the premises, or has refused to either make satisfactory correction or to pay the reasonable costs of repairing such damage over a reasonable period of time.
 5. The tenant has continued, following written notice to cease, to be so disorderly as to destroy the peace and quiet of other tenants at the property.
 6. The tenant has used the rental unit or the common areas of the premises for an illegal purpose including the manufacture, sale, or use of illegal drugs.

7. The tenant has, after written notice to cease, continued to deny landlord access to the unit as required by state law.
8. The owner of record seeks in good faith, without ulterior reasons and with honest intent, to recover possession of the rental unit for his or her occupancy as a principal residence where he or she has previously occupied the rental unit as his or her principal residence and has the right to recover possession for his or her occupancy as a principal residence under a written rental agreement with the current tenants.
9. The owner of record seeks in good faith, without ulterior reasons and with honest intent, to recover possession for his or her own use and occupancy as his or her principal residence, or for the use and occupancy as a principal residence by the owner of record's spouse, domestic partner, child, parent, or grandparent.
 - a. Here the owner of record recovers possession under this Subsection (9) [Paragraph 8.22.360 A.9], and where continuous occupancy for the purpose of recovery is less than thirty-six (36) months, such recovery of the residential unit shall be a presumed violation of this chapter.
 - b. The owner of record may not recover possession pursuant to this subsection more than once in any thirty-six (36) month period,
 - c. The owner must move in to unit within three (3) months of the tenant's vacation of the premises.
 - d. ~~When the owner seeking possession of a unit under Section 6(A)(9) [8.22.360 A.9] owns a similar vacant unit, the owner's decision not to occupy said similar unit shall create a rebuttable presumption that they are seeking to recover possession in bad faith. Reserved.~~
 - e. A landlord may not recover possession of a unit from a tenant under Subsection 6(A)(9) [8.22.360 A.9], if the landlord has or receives notice, any time before recovery of possession, that any tenant in the rental unit:
 - i. Has been residing in the unit for five (5) years or more; and
 - (a) Is sixty (60) years of age or older; or
 - (b) Is a disabled tenant as defined in the California Fair Employment and Housing Act (California Government Code § 12926); or
 - ii. Has been residing in the unit for five (5) years or more, and is a catastrophically ill tenant, defined as a person who is disabled as defined by Subsection (e)(i)(b) [8.22.360 A.9.e.i.b]] and who suffers from a life threatening illness as certified by his or her primary care physician.
 - f. The provisions of Subsection (e) [8.22.360 A.9.e] above shall not apply where the landlord's qualified relative who will move into the unit is 60 years of age or older, disabled or catastrophically ill as defined by Subsection (e) [8.22.360 A.9.e], and where every rental unit owned by the landlord is occupied by a tenant otherwise protected from eviction by Subsection (e) [8.22.360 A.9.e].

- g. A tenant who claims to be a member of one of the classes protected by Subsection 6(A)(9)(e) [8.22.360 A.9.e] must submit a statement, with supporting evidence, to the landlord. A landlord may challenge a tenant's claim of protected status by requesting a hearing with the Rent Board. In the Rent Board hearing, the tenant shall have the burden of proof to show protected status. No civil or criminal liability shall be imposed upon a landlord for challenging a tenant's claim of protected status. The Rent Board shall adopt rules and regulations to implement the hearing procedure.
 - h. Once a landlord has successfully recovered possession of a rental unit pursuant to Subsection 6(A)(9) [8.22.360 A.9], no other current landlords may recover possession of any other rental unit in the building under Subsection 6(A)(9) [8.22.360 A.9]. Only one specific unit per building may undergo a Subsection 6(A)(9) [8.22.360 A.9] eviction. Any future evictions taking place in the same building under Subsection 6(A)(9) [8.22.360 A.9] must be of that same unit, provided that a landlord may file a petition with the Rent Board or, at the landlord's option, commence eviction proceedings, claiming that disability or other similar hardship prevents him or her from occupying a unit which was previously the subject of a Subsection 6(A)(9) [8.22.360 A.9] eviction. The Rent Board shall adopt rules and regulations to implement the application procedure.
 - i. A notice terminating tenancy under this Subsection must contain, in addition to the provisions required under Subsection 6(B)(5) [8.22.360 B.5]:
 - ii ~~[sic]~~ i. A listing of all property owned by the intended future occupant(s).
 - iii ~~[sic]~~ ii. The address of the real property, if any, on which the intended future occupant(s) claims a homeowner's property tax exemption.
 - iv ~~[sic] A statement informing tenant of his or her rights under Subsection 6(C) [8.22.360 C].*~~
10. The owner of record, after having obtained all necessary permits from the City of Oakland on or before the date upon which notice to vacate is given, seeks in good faith to undertake substantial repairs that cannot be completed while the unit is occupied, and that are necessary either to bring the property into compliance with applicable codes and laws affecting health and safety of tenants of the building, or under an outstanding notice of code violations affecting the health and safety of tenants of the building.
- a. Upon recovery of possession of the rental unit, owner of record shall proceed without unreasonable delay to effect the needed repairs. The tenant shall not be required to vacate pursuant to this section, for a period in excess of three months; provided, however, that such time period may be extended by the Rent Board upon application by the landlord. The Rent

Board shall adopt rules and regulations to implement the application procedure.

- b. Upon completion of the needed repairs, owner of record shall offer tenant the first right to return to the premises at the same rent and pursuant to a rental agreement of substantially the same terms, subject to the owner of record's right to obtain rent increase for capital improvements consistent with the terms of the Oakland Residential Rent Arbitration Ordinance or any successor ordinance.
- c. A notice terminating tenancy under this Subsection 6(A)(10) [8.22.360 A.10] must include the following information:
 - i. A statement informing tenants as to their right to payment under the Oakland Relocation Ordinance.
 - ii. A statement that "When the needed repairs are completed on your unit, the landlord must offer you the opportunity to return to your unit with a rental agreement containing the same terms as your original one and with the same rent (although landlord may be able to obtain a rent increase under the Oakland Residential Rent Arbitration Ordinance [O.M.C. Chapter 8.22, Article I]."
 - iii. ~~A statement informing tenant of his or her rights under Subsection 6(C) [8.22.360 C].~~ *Reserved.
 - iv. An estimate of the time required to complete the repairs and the date upon which it is expected that the unit will be ready for habitation.
11. The owner of record seeks ~~in good faith, without ulterior reasons and with honest intent~~, remove the property from the rental market in accordance with the terms of the Ellis Act (California Government Code Section 7060 et seq.).
- B. The following additional provisions shall apply to a landlord who seeks to recover a rental unit pursuant to Subsection 6(A) [8.22.360 A]:
 1. The burden of proof shall be on the landlord in any eviction action to which this order is applicable to prove compliance with Section 6 [8.22.360].
 2. A landlord shall not endeavor to recover possession of a rental unit unless at least one of the grounds enumerated in Subsection 6(A) [8.22.360 A] above is stated in the notice and that ground is the landlord's dominant motive for recovering possession and the landlord acts in good faith in seeking to recover possession.
