I believe I am qualified to serve on the Oakland Housing Authority Commission because of my background and experience working in development, affordable housing, contracting and procurement, and my experience as a board member of the Charles Houston Bar association. My professional experience includes work on the development of a major development project in San Francisco; the Hunters Point Shipyard and Candlestick Point project area. In this capacity I manage implementation of an $80 million dollar community benefits agreement and serve as the agency representative and work with the master developer on design and development of vertical projects from the initial design phase, through completion of construction. Additionally, I also have experience working with and coordinating with various city departments including Planning, Fire, Department of Building Inspections, Department of Public Health, and DPW. My experience also includes years of serving as an active member of an organized board; the Charles Houston Bar Association. In this role I actively organize and participate in the delivery of legal advice to underserved communities, and in supporting members of the association. I believe my experience and desire to serve my community would be a helpful addition to the Oakland Housing Authority in its mission to provide safe, affordable housing in Oakland.

VINCENT T. LEUNG

January 25, 2017 Greetings, My name is Vincent Leung and I am writing to request the Mayor's consideration for a position on the Oakland Budget Advisory Commission ("BAC"). As a BAC member, I will apply world-class experience and skills that are directly applicable and relevant to the workings and responsibilities of the BAC. These include: * Budgeting, financial planning, analysis, and modeling. Most recently, I led and conducted all budgeting, forecasting, and modeling activities for a growth-stage clean energy startup. Also, in my investment banking and corporate finance roles, I learned how to analyze all facets of an organization's financial condition, strategy, and operations. Throughout my career, I have created original, highly sophisticated models and analyses incorporating complex tax, accounting, regulatory, and cross-border considerations. I strongly believe the BAC will benefit from my experience in leading and having been directly responsible for budgeting and world-class financial analysis throughout my career. * Depth and breadth of financial product knowledge. My experience and deep expertise in finance and financial products allows me to approach the financial governance of any organization with a keen eye for detail and discipline. On the trading floor of a major New York investment bank, I gained intimate familiarity with the workings of equity, debt, swap, and derivative products. As part of a team that created complex new structured products, I analyzed and documented their financial effects, and translated the ideas and concepts behind them into actionable words in the form of marketing materials and legal documentation. I can therefore apply this knowledge for the benefit of the BAC and the City of Oakland by reading between the lines and identifying unseen ramifications of financial products and proposed financial transactions. * Strategic planning and project/deal execution. Also, throughout my career, I have been responsible for the due diligence, valuation, and execution of M&A and strategic opportunities. I have also helped plan joint ventures, participated in internal strategic planning, and monitored developments at individual competitors and in entire industries. I have also successfully led and collaborated with large teams of internal and external constituents in diverse contexts such as strategic planning, capital raises, and M&A assignments. In all my roles, I have worked closely with C-level executives and business heads to deliver my findings and analyses, and to develop budgets, strategic proposals, and business plans. I have also won praise for my teamwork and leadership skills, initiative and work ethic, and verbal and written communication abilities. All these skills will be important in evaluating the City of Oakland's short- and long-term budgeting and financial priorities as a BAC member. I look forward to deploying these qualities and experiences as a productive, value-added member of the Oakland Budget Advisory Commission. For your reference, I have enclosed my resume and a summary of my deal experience. Should you require more information, please feel free to contact me at your convenience at [redacted]. Thank you for your time and consideration. With best regards, Vincent T. Leung
