Josh Chase was born in San Francisco and raised in Oakland. He attended Oakland Public School District, later graduating from Santa Clara University with a BS in Economics and a focus in Finance. During college Josh became a medical patient and started to experiment with small grows in the Northern Bay Area and educating himself on cannabis and the cannabis market in California. In 2014 Washington legalized cannabis and Josh decided to move to Washington to gain experience in the cannabis industry without taking the risks of doing it in an illegal market and getting arrested. In Washington Josh owns/operates an I502 manufacturing, cultivation and extraction company named Kush Valley that focuses on soil to oil methods and employs roughly 20 employees. During his time in Washington Josh got the opportunity to manage commercial sized grows, work side by side with the extraction team, acted as the CSO (Chief Sales Officer) in which he was able to pick up over 125 retail accounts and build over 250 different relationships with other producer/ processors. Washington allowed Josh to absorb the needed experience to participate in California's emerging very competitive cannabis industry efficiently upon expansion to California. Since Josh's arrival to California he has been able to work hand in hand with the social equity program in Oakland, San Francisco and The Greater Los Angeles Area. In his short time being back in California he has built a vertically intergraded cannabis operation by owning permits for a Brick and Mortar Dispensary, multiple delivery hubs, distribution, manufacturing and transportation. As laws change and new cities legalize cannabis Josh continues to apply and expand his operation. He has worked beside some of the biggest names in cannabis to help expand operations and increase revenue from San Fransisco to New Jersey. Joshua Chase 510 333 6835

Which Boards would you like to apply for?

Cannabis Regulatory Commission: Appointed

Interests & Experiences

Please tell us how your qualifications and participation will relate to the requested board and/or commission's mission.

I have been a resident of Oakland for sixty years. I retired from working thirty-two years for the City of Oakland in community economic development. I managed the City's Neighborhood Commercial Revitalization program and worked with small businesses throughout the city. Since retiring I am a care provider to my husband who is a quadriparetic as the result of injuries to his spinal cord. I completed Oaksterdam University's fourteen week Classic Semester program to become informed about the various forms of Cannabis available for pain management as well as to be an advocate for changing legislation at the Federal level to reclassify the plant from its current Schedule 1 designation. In order to become an effective advocate, I offer my experience as a care provider, a former economic development professional and an informed supporter of Cannabis for medicinal use, to the City of Oakland's Cannabis Regulatory Commission. With the establishment of adult use Cannabis comes new regulations and taxes, I will advocate for safe and affordable access for patients to ensure that market forces do not drive the cost of medicine out of reach for the people that were in the fore front of changing State laws and public attitudes regarding Cannabis. I would like to continue to serve on the Cannabis Regulatory Commission to help identify and remove barriers to growing a diverse and thriving Cannabis industry in Oakland. Thank you in advance for considering my application.

Stephanie Floyd-Johnson Bio Stephanie Floyd-Johnson graduated from UC Berkeley with a degree in architecture. She accepted a position with the City of Oakland and over the next thirty years worked in all aspects of neighborhood revitalization and business development. Ms. Johnson managed the City's Neighborhood Commercial Revitalization Division for ten years. She developed an intimate understanding of the economic conditions in Oakland's many diverse neighborhoods. With a staff of ten professionals she coordinated $20 million in streetscape improvement projects including applying for and receiving grants totaling $5 million; completed 250 façade improvement projects which represented more than $4 million in public and private investment; developed the City's Business Improvement District (BID) Program that resulted in the establishment of six special assessment districts that generate more than $1 million in annual assessments; provided technical assistance to more than a dozen merchant associations and awarded $120,000 in grants to these associations to market and promote their shopping districts. Ms. Johnson authored an article entitled "Revitalizing Oakland's Neighborhoods" which was published in the International Economic Development Council's Economic Development Journal, summer 2002 issue. The article chronicled revitalization activities in Oakland that successfully strengthened neighborhoods and transformed commercial districts. Ms. Johnson managed the production of a quarterly newsletter which highlighted projects, programs and activities in the Oakland's ten redevelopment areas. The publication was awarded the International Economic Development Council 2010 Excellence in Economic Development award. Over the course of her professional career she had considerable fiscal responsibility for the management of funds and grants obtained as well as the accounting for all expenditures. Since retiring Ms. Johnson volunteers in her community.
