Biographical Information
Barry Pilger

Barry Pilger is principal, broker and owner (with his wife Catherine Moss) of Stafford Real Estate in Oakland, representing buyers and sellers in real estate transactions and managing residential property in the San Francisco Bay Area. They also own Stafford Structural, a state licensed general contracting company. It works with Stafford Real Estate's clients to repair and remodel property prior to resale.

Barry was a human resources manager and executive for 13 years, serving in various capacities with several large companies in the San Francisco Bay Area, including Crocker Bank, Buttes Gas and Oil and ComputerLand (where he was the head of the human resources staff.) After leaving corporate life in 1986, he formed a construction company and worked full time as a licensed general and concrete contractor in California for 14 years. Barry and Catherine have managed residential income property (their own and others) continuously since the late 1970s.

Barry Pilger has been a Bay Area resident since 1973, after having moved here from the Nebraska Panhandle, where he was born and raised. He has a bachelor's degree from the University of Nebraska and has done graduate work in business administration at San Francisco State University.

He has served the community in a number of capacities including as a member of the city of Oakland Budget Advisory Committee, an ad hoc committee advising the Oakland Building Department after the 1991 fire, the Wildfire Prevention Assessment District advisory committee, the technical advisory committee for Oakland's massive Zoning Update (the goal being bringing zoning regulations compliant with the city's general plan) and has served for the past 10 years as a member of Oakland's Business Tax Appeals Board.

He has served as president of the North Hills Phoenix Association, chair of the North Hills Community Association. He has also served on the boards of the World Affairs Council of Northern California, the Narcotics Education League (of Oakland) and the Merola Opera Program.

DAVID F. JONES

18 MAY -2 PM 1:41

David F. Jones serves as the Treasury Administrator in the Bureau of Treasury for the City of Oakland and has worked in the Bureau of Treasury since October 1998. In his capacity as Interim Treasury Manager, Mr. Jones has managed all aspects of municipal debt issuance and debt management for the City of Oakland and the Oakland Redevelopment Successor Agency. The City has approximately $1.6 billion in debt outstanding. Mr. Jones oversees cash management, investments and administration of the City's public funds totaling an excess of $800 million. David is also responsible for the day-to-day banking operations of the Bureau of Treasury and oversees the City's Electronic Point of Sale (POS) system. He has managed the Payroll Unit which is responsible for all functions ranging from operations, control, and systems. In addition, his responsibilities include managing the Retirement Unit insuring that all retirees are paid accurately and in a timely fashion.

Before coming to the City of Oakland, Mr. Jones was an investment banker with Charles A. Bell Securities in San Francisco where he participated in the structuring and pricing of general obligation bonds, lease revenue bonds, sales tax revenue bonds, and tax allocation bonds for various issuers throughout the State of California.

Prior to Charles A. Bell Securities Corp., Mr. Jones also worked as a financial consultant for Wells Fargo Securities, Premier Banking Division where he advised clients on various financial products for their investment portfolios.

Mr. Jones holds a bachelor's degree in Finance from Michigan State University.
